

In the current form, the manuscript by Tharayil et al. is suitable for publication. The upper boundary for the metal affinity of the tag of 1  $\mu\text{M}$  is very helpful, as well as the performed DOSY and EXSY experiments, that indicate that a dimerization of tagged proteins does not contribute significantly. The very useful manuscript should find many readers in the broad community of MR.